

Tom Lerach

Tom Lerach, VP of Professional Services - Federal, Intel Security (formerly McAfee),

Tom has been with Intel since fall of 2012. As VP of Professional Services, Tom leads a team of industry experts who are embedded across all areas of the Federal government integrating and enhancing the use of McAfee's product suite. Key components Tom's division supports include HBSS (ePO), McAfee's firewall suite, web and email gateways, SEIM and a host of other products. Tom is directly involved in a variety of long term development and optimization efforts in DOD, Intelligence, Homeland and many other US Agencies.

Previously, Tom held the position of Director of Operations for HP on the Navy/Marine Corps Internet, where he was the senior operations executive for all delivery aspects of the 400,000 seat infrastructure including extensive information security activities. Tom splits his time between Norfolk and the beltway. He is married with 3 children.

Tom is a US Army veteran, predominately serving in Intelligence and the Army Security Agency.